The Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary

Oremus pro Pontifice nostro Francisco: Dominus conservet eum, et vivificet eum, et beatum faciat eum in terra, et non tradat eum in animam inimicorum eius.

Beátam me dicent omnes generatiónes, quia fecit mihi magna qui potens est.

Mary was cared for by St John for twelve years after Our Lord's Resurrection. Her life was spent helping the Apostles and in praying for the conversion of the world.

Omnipotens sempiterne Deus, qui facis mirabilia magna

History

St. Mary's Church

Mayon-Wye

The church was separated from the ancient parish of Llanigon in the year 1115 A.D. At that time the manorial tithes were bequeathed to St. Mary's Church by the then Lord of the Manor, Walter Revel. A copy of the original deed of endowment is preserved in the Bodleian Library at Oxford. A translation is shown on the west wall of the nave. The list of vicars and patrons of St. Mary's Church are shown in the same frame. Recent research for the history of Hay has corrected, and added to, the list given in Philip Jones's 'History of Brecknockshire'.

As customary, the church was built close to the castle, which at that time was on the mound just east of the church. The present castle and town walls were not built until later, and this accounts for the church being outside the town walls.

Shortly after the foundation, the rectorial tithes were transferred to the Priory of St. John, Brecon, in return for which the priory was supposed to provide a resident Priest from his community. The arrangement was not very satisfactory, and in 1215 the Lateran Council decreed that the Parish Priests were to be the responsibility of the Bishop, in the case of Hay this was then the Bishop of St. David's.

After this there is little precise information about the church until Puritan times when the vicar, Thomas Dennis, was ejected solely because he was a Royalist. The church was left unattended for eight years until just before the Restoration when John Dennis was appointed, only to be almost immediately ejected in his turn by the Royalists. In the Post Reformation Period Hay suffered, as did many other parishes throughout the Kingdom, from absentee vicars and it was not until 1845 that an active resident vicar was appointed.

During the period from about 1662, the vicarage was in general, either held jointly with the rectories of Llanelieu Talgarth or Cusop (the neighbouring English rectory), or else the appointed vicar lived away from the parish, appointing a resident curate to do his work in Hay. As a result, both the state of the parish and the fabric of the church deteriorated seriously. In fact, in 1827 the church wardens were summoned to appear before the Consistory Court at Brecon to answer for their neglect of duties!

This position was aggravated by the systems of proprietary pews which had grown up. These pews were the private property of their owners and no one else could use or occupy them whether or not the proprietors wished to sell them. Three quarters of the seats in Hay Church came under this heading, leaving only just over a hundred seats available as free sittings.
